

Exhibition:

This group exhibition - photo, video and sound installations by young Hungarian and foreign artists - explores the theme of home. A physical segment of space that we appropriate for ourselves and an idea that is hard to define in an objective manner: this is home. The exhibiting artists reflect upon this by emphasizing a certain meaning and the appearance of the word in different languages. Themes reappearing in the works, both in the literal and abstract sense of the word, are the desire to build a home, lack of a home and leaving home for another place. Homeland, address of residence, family, property and the void we are looking to fill are all possible synonyms of the word.

Exhibiting Artists: Éva Szombat, Zsuzsi Flohr, Chantal Meng, Mihály Fazekas, Esteban De La Torre, Balázs Varju Tóth, Andrea Ausztrics

Curator: Andrea Ausztrics

The exhibition open between 12 - 31 of December.

The exhibition funded by the Supermarket Gallery, the Paideia Institute and the Charles and Lynn Schusterman Family Foundation.

Hanukkah:

Lets celebrate Hanukkah together with the Home exhibition! Please arrive promptly at 6pm because we need to light the candles. Rabbi Ariel Pollak from Berlin will give a speech after the candle lightening about home and Hanukkah. Don't miss out!
